

Everything Happens For a Reason

Life has lots of outcomes. Everybody come to life just for once. Sometimes we see it's fair side, sometimes unfair side. Life, does not depends on any success or any failure. Sometimes, the thing which we see as bad, might become good after time. Steve Jobs, as most of us know as one of the richest man in the world, actually have a very big successes and lots of inspirations for whole humanity. But one very easy thing humans who know Steve Jobs should learn from his life is, we should enjoy the life and live it as much as we can with the thought of we ca die in one year.

Steve Jobs, came to the world to a family who had no condition to take care of a baby. He started to life with one step lower than his peers. Big journey of Steve Jobs started when he left his University. He was thinking that most of the subjects were not necessary to learn. And the money which his new parents were paying were not worth at all for University. So, he left university. After long time, he started following his dreams. He started with a business in his garage, but he ended up with a business world wide with millions of users who started using his products. But, bad news came to him. He learned that he had cancer. After that day, he started thinking about life more. He started thinking about how short and precious life is. He even asked to himself that, what would he do if he had only one more year of life to live. After this question, he saw what bad things or unworthy acts or thoughts he made than started to change them.

He proved that, even a bad situation can turn out to a good situation. Everything happens for a reason as we learned from his life. He left his University, because he was unhappy. But his leaving from University opened a very big opportunity to him. He always fought with the troubles he ecountered with, and he succeed. Steve Jobs, after long time of fighting with his illness, passed away. But he left many technologies and inspirations to people which made him eternal. He became a pure inspiration with the way he thought about life and how he lived it.

Steve Jobs's life showed to us that we should follow our dreams and do whatever it takes about it. Nearly, nothing can resist to the power of mind, We just need to dream and start doing something about that dream. Struggles are always consist and always had been. Nothing is nearly impossible, we just need to follow our hearts, he said. Today, they say money cannot buy happiness. But this always depends on the people. Steve Job's life proved to all of us that, money can make people happy. But at the end, it cannot buy health.