

EVERYTHING HAPPENS FOR A REASON

As I grew up I was always hearing people around me saying that everything happens for a reason, if you asked me do you really believe in such a sentence; Then my answer is yes, to be honest I never known or believed in this sentence until I heard & read about Steve Jobs. Actually I have experienced some actions in my life that taught me that the reasons are always important, for example if I didn't come to university then I would never be able to learn what I have learned till now. Otherwise, as a student I really do appreciate a man like Steve Jobs and I would do what ever it takes me to be as successful as he was. However, Steve Jobs is the best character or story that would prove the fact that "everything happens for a reason" that's why today I decided to write about his childhood, education, career and life in general.

Firstly, childhood is the period where our minds, cultures and interests are being built. And many of the reasons that made us what we are today are back to things that happened in our childhood. According to Steve jobs childhood and education, he was an adopted child and lived in California he attended his first electronic class in high school which was one of his biggest interests. As he was passionate by that class he also attended after-school lectures at the Hewlett-Packard Company. That company hired Jobs and there he got an opportunity to work with Steve Wozniak, who would later co-found Apple Computers with him. However, it is important to realize how did Jobs start to discover the things he like because if he didn't love his work then he would have never been able to create all that great inventions, also he wouldn't be able to learn the first basic steps that lead him to success in the electronics huge world.

Secondly, education is a factor that helped Steve Jobs to score what he has done in his life also without it Apple Company might have never been established. Steve jobs has been dropped out college but he didn't stop learning, on the other side he used to have only calligraphy classes and started to focus on the type of education he really liked, maybe that was the reason of his success which is to choose the education he liked and benefit from the one single class he used to attend. That was a very important action that changed Steve's Life. However, I advise you to take this as a lesson into your lives and know that it is never too late to study or do what you love. For instance, college might not be the right choice for everyone because people have different habits and interests.

In addition Steve Jobs has mentioned that the elegant apple designs goes back to the education he learned in his calligraphy classes. For instance, Jobs mentioned about his education “ none of this had even a hope of any practical application in my life. But ten years later, when we were designing the first Macintosh computer, it all came back to me”. Also, Steve jobs said “ If I had never dropped out, I would have never dropped in on this calligraphy class, and personal computers might not have the wonderful typography that they do.” As we can understand from his words that Steve Jobs is a person who used to believe that behind everything there is a reason.

Success is never easy to achieve, in order to get to it you should think and work hard. Try to think of the reasons that made you who you are? Or try to think of the reasons that made you poor, rich, student or a worker? Everyone in life have different situation. And everyone might face get through hard lives. You should use that reasons and turn them to great story that makes you an unforgettable person in this life everyone does mistakes, do know that the biggest mistakes you’ve done are the reason of the success you can reach?

These are big questions that are not easily answered. But only great people with great minds are the ones who never give up on challenging life and take these hard problems they face as experiences and lessons that can be the reasons of a success story such as Steve Jobs who is now a model for every one of us.

STUDENT NAME:
SAMAR FAWAZ ABURAMADAN
STUDENT ID: 100101300